FaberHill

Faber Hill is another tourist attraction in Singapore that I never photographed during my past 24.5 years' stay; I think I only visited it a couple of times - too troublesome finding parking there. But here we go, a panoramic wide angle followed by a 20x zoom on the big wheel tower - surprising amount of haze then various shots involving the cable car system though they are much nearer than the big wheel, the haze is already quite bad; now some close encounters from a car approaching Faber Hill Station; one near PSA tower

On the other side of Faber Hill a long, very high pedestrian bridge to Telok Blangar Hill is under construction now some details
